The MET OPERA has a new home in Aspen, Colorado. The HD LIVE broadcasts of all remaining MET OPERA SERIES productions for the 2012-2013 season will be presented in their entirety at the Isis Theater in Aspen.

The first Opera offering to the Aspen community will be Saturday, December 8 at 10:55 –
Verdi's - UN BALLO IN MASCHERA

“We have been working for several months with NCM/FATHOM EVENTS and the MET OPERA to finalize the necessary agreements and install the required hardware to present the MET OPERA to the Aspen community” states Alan Stokes (Metropolitan Theatres VP Film Marketing). “We strongly feel that Aspen will embrace these offerings and we are honored to be able to present them”.

There will also be box lunches provided by a local restaurant for the inaugural Opera on December 8 available for purchase before or during the intermissions.
The concession stand will also be open for regular items offered as well.

All seats are $20 for each Opera during this inaugural season.
Tickets are available at the box office of the Isis Theater or on line at www.metrotheatres.com.
