All,

Make sure security is in the auditoriums that are selling out so they can assist patrons in finding seats. This is mandatory during peak season. We have limited space due to the recliners and no one wants to sit down front so every chair in the upper section needs to be used.

Thanks,

Your Message           Everything was great except...when we got in there it was packed and people were putting their coats, purses, etc. on the seats next to them all for the reason that they didn't want people
